Marte Meyer, PA Named Interim CEO

Denver, CO-Marte Meyer, 9Health Fair Vice President since 2007, has been named interim Chief Executive Officer by the Board of Trustees. Meyer, a physicians' assistant and veteran health care administrator, replaces Jim Goddard who stepped down earlier this month.

"I'm excited to continue the important work of 9Health Fair," Meyer said. "In this health care environment, it is more important than ever that each of us take personal responsibility for our health, and 9Health Fair has been providing tools to help everyone accomplish that for over 36 years."

Meyer previously spent 26 years at Kaiser Permanente of Colorado in a variety of roles including staff physician assistant, operations manager, director of emergency services, consulting principal and a number of other administrative positions prior to his tenure at 9Health Fair. Meyer holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in advertising from Michigan State University, received his physician assistant training at Wake Forest University and has an MBA from the University of Colorado. He serves on community boards including the Glendale YMCA and the advisory board of the Red Rocks Community College Physician Assistant Program.

The Board of Trustees will be conducting a national search for a new Chief Executive Officer and remains committed to the vision inspired by physician John F. Brensike that has developed into the largest volunteer-run health fair in the nation. Since 1980, with the help and support of nearly 20,000 volunteers who share the passion for a healthier Colorado, 9Health Fairs have served nearly 2,000,000 Coloradoans! As the organization and its Board look to 9Health Fair's 40th Anniversary, they maintain a steadfast commitment to advancing health awareness in their service areas, providing people with the tools they need to take responsibility for their own health.

About 9Health Fair
